 - (ix) The Supplier will need to notify the organization of changes to processes, products, or services, including changes of their external providers or location of manufacture, and obtain the organisations approval.
 - (x) Where identified in the purchase order, the Supplier will flow down to external providers applicable requirements.
 - (xi) The Supplier will need to provide test specimens for design approval, inspection/verification, investigation, or auditing as required.
 - (xii) The Supplier will ensure that persons under their control are aware of
 - Their contribution to product or service conformity
 - Their contribution to safety
 - The importance of Ethical behaviour.
- (xiii) The Supplier is expected to take every precaution to prevent the use of Counterfeit parts.

A. Certificate of Conformance: for Parts Manufactured and/or goods supplied to the Buyers drawings and specifications:

Each shipment shall be accompanied, if requested, by one (1) legible and reproducible copy of a certificate of conformance containing the signature and title of an authorised representative stating that the items ordered were produced in accordance with and conform in all respects to the contractual requirements including specifications, drawings, (including revision levels), marking requirements and physical item identification. When the parts are serialised, serial numbers shall be included on the certification. The certificate of conformance must reference the purchase order number, the internal tracking number/lot number assigned by your company for this job, state that the parts were manufactured to the Buyer's drawing number and revision level listed on this purchase order. Failure to follow these procedures will result in parts being rejected at the Buyer, payment held and return of shipment;

B. Certification of Material Conformance:

Each shipment shall be accompanied by one (1) legible and reproducible copy of a certificate of conformance containing the signature and title of an authorised representative for each material used to fabricate the items ordered in this purchase order.

5 TIME

(i) Time shall not be of the essence of the Contract but the Buyer may make and time shall be of the essence of the Contract in the following circumstances:

- a. If by reference to any delivery or other data for performance in the Contract the Buyer has described time as being of the essence:
- b. If the date for the anticipated delivery has passed by giving the Seller written notice specifying a date 7 days later for the purposes of which time shall be of the essence;
- c. If the delivery date is approximate or if there is not date specified for delivery or performance and in either event the date upon which the Buyer could reasonably have expected such delivery or other performance to be effected has passed, by giving the Seller written notice specifying a date 14 days later for the purpose of which time shall be of the essence;

(ii) If by reason of any cause beyond the Seller's control the Seller is or is likely to be prevented from effecting the delivery or performance on the date specified in the Contract, the Seller shall promptly give the Buyer written notice of all the circumstances, whereupon the obligation of the Seller to effect the delivery or performance shall be suspended for a period consistent with the extent and duration of the cause provided that the Buyer shall be entitled at its option at any time and whether or not time is of the essence of the Contract to treat the delay or anticipated delay in effecting the delivery or performance as repudiation of the Contract by the Seller if it considers it expedient in the interests of its business to do so whereupon all monies paid by the Buyer in respect of the delivery or performance which has not been effected shall be refunded and to the like extent all the obligations and liabilities of the Buyer and the Seller in respect of that delivery performance shall absolutely cease and determine.

(iii) If the Seller shall fail to effect the delivery or performance by a date in respect of which time is of the essence then whether or not such delivery or performance shall affect a substantial portion of the Goods the Buyer shall at its option be entitled to forthwith determine the whole or part of the Contract where upon risk in Goods already delivered and affected by such determination shall revert to the Seller and the Seller shall become liable to:

- (a) repay any monies already paid by the Buyer in respect of the Contract together with interest at 2% above HSBC Bank plc Base rate; (b) compensate the Buyer for any loss directly and foreseeably incurred by it in consequence of the late delivery of performance.
